

Jubilee Insurance donates 100,000 masks to fight COVID-19

As part of its efforts to support the government in alleviating the effects of COVID-19 on Kenyans, Jubilee Insurance has donated a total of 100,000 face masks that will be distributed to frontline workers across the country. The first consignment of 10,000 face masks was donated to the Kenya National Police Service Commission and another 5,000 face masks donated to health workers at Mama Lucy Kibaki Hospital. The gesture is in response to calls by President Uhuru Kenyatta on individual Kenyans as well as corporates of goodwill to join hands in scaling up the fight against the pandemic.
